

What Kind of Coffee do you drink?

Don't really feel like giving up the joys of Coffee but would like to make more health conscious decisions, the solution is here.

Drink the benefits of Ganoderma coffee and also sample all the other DXN products and enjoy the difference!

Thanks to the Ganoderma Mushroom, its extract can be mixed with High Quality Arabica and Robusta coffee from Brazil. This creates a very unique taste, as well as has a very positive effect on the body.

Your body accumulates acids which are neutralized by the effects of the Ganoderma mushroom if used regularly. This mushroom will also regulate blood pressure and stabilize the effects of high and low fluctuations in the body.

The Ganoderma Mushroom (Ganoderma Lucidum) contains nearly 200 alimentary substances which have positive effects on our body. One of those ingredients is Organic Germanium which is one of the most healing substances in Nature. The Ganoderma Mushroom is a virtuous plant therefore not containing side effects which weaken the body after long term use. In fact, this type of mushroom improves your immune system and helps the body heal itself more rapidly.

People tend to forget to take their daily vitamin dose or have to give up their food supplement in the absence of financial means.

Have you ever heard of anyone forgetting to drink their Daily cup of coffee?

A great idea was born when DXN decided to mix this potent Ganoderma mushroom with a staple product in the daily lives of so many people around the world.

In today's consumption of this potent product, DXN is the world's largest producer having over 6 million daily consumers in 180 countries..

DXN is also proud to say that they are one of only a handful of companies manufacturing this product with no artificial flavors, colorings or preservatives.

More info: www.dxnclub.com

The King of herbs

Scientific research has confirmed the many positive effects of Ganoderma on the body including the purification of the bloodstream, blood circulation as well as improves cell quality. It will strengthen the immune system as well as enable your organs to function optimally. Ganoderma has been proven to reduce the effects of poor circulation and maintain a healthy body.

The two-way effect of ganoderma, that it can increase or decrease blood pressure, may sound strange. Since ganoderma harmonizes the body's functions, enhances the natural self-healing ability, can strengthen the immune system.

Source: Pub med

DXN ganoderma plantation

The DXN Ganoderma plantation covers 70 hectares. It is the largest farm in Malaysia and the first Malaysian Lingzhi farm to receive MS ISO 14001:2004 certification from Lloyd's Register Quality Assurance, since July 2000. This is to ensure all activities in cultivating Ganoderma are met with MS ISO 14001:2004 standard and comply to legal requirement by Department of Environment. In November 2007, DXN Lingzhi Farm was accredited the Malaysian Organic Scheme (Skim Organik Malaysia) certification by Department of Agriculture, Peninsular Malaysia (Jabatan Pertanian Semenanjung Malaysia), which meets the standard of MS 1529:2001 and Certified Organic Farm.